Field of the Invention The present invention relates to the field of load bearing structures, particularly to a load bearing structure for a bicycle trailer, and more particularly, to a bicycle trailer having a load bearing structure with a low center of gravity. 2. Description of the Related Art Bicycle trailers, also called bicycle "cargos", are designed to support the bicycle and a bicycle rider. A trailer allows a bicycle rider to carry a bicycle and associated equipment, for example, a child, without having to carry the bicycle. Trailer load bearing structures are known and widely used, for example, U.S. Pat. No. 4,461,178 and U.S. Pat. No. 5,540,366. The trailer load bearing structures in these patents include a single triangular cross section, closed box also has a low center of gravity. A trailer is typically attached to a bicycle by attaching the trailer to the bicycle frame using straps and/or clamps. The trailer is often attached at the back of the bicycle. The trailer may be attached using a single attachment point, for example, a simple U-shaped bracket, or may be attached using 82157476af
